

February Sprout News

It's official - we are under construction! The Sprouts boycotted naptime when they heard the forklift moving the shed across the playground. Their little eyes peeking over the window sill was a sight to see! It's the little things that make them so happy! We are very excited for the new Sprout room. Ms Regan and Ms Charlene's group will be moving into the new classroom upon completion. Actually the entire class will move over for about a week while workers give the old classroom a fresh look. Until then the Sprouts will be watching every truck, tool, and construction worker! It should be fun.

Winter finally fell upon us. The Sprouts love the snow, they stand at the window watching and talking about it as it falls from the sky. Bundling up and venturing out into the snow is an adventure all by itself. We built a snowman only to see him melt as the snow turned into rain. Henry Bradley had so much fun outside we had to bribe him to come inside!

The Sprout room was transformed into a winter wonderland complete with snowflakes, penguins, and winter clothing. The Sprouts LOVED the penguins. Hudson had a story to tell about every penguin on the art wall. Wilson and Evan had a blast building towers and roads with the waffle blocks.

In February we will be exploring our senses with "Sticky, Goopy, Slimy" stuff! We will also celebrate Valentine's Day. If you would like to bring in Valentines the Sprouts will be handing them out to their friends. We do ask that you do not address the cards TO: FROM is okay (this way the Sprouts can hand out their cards). Also we ask that you do not include any candy. We will have a special snack that day.

We have a lot going on in February it should be fun.
