GROWING TREE CHILDREN'S CENTER

SEEDS

November 1, 2020

Dear Families,

We have noticed so much growth and development with our Seedlings in class during the month of October and we are excited to witness even more during November. Here are a few things we would love to share with all of you!

Belle has taken off with her belly crawl and has been spotted putting herself up on all fours, but the cutest thing of all, is when Belle and June start up a conversation with each other. They take several turns each during these conversations. Then, when they see that I might try to get a video of them, they clam up.

Charlie has been working on her friendships. When sitting next to a friend who might be having a hard time due to teething or such, she reaches out and gives them a pat on their arm or holds their hand. She is now also enjoying her tummy time.

Ellee loves lying next to any of her friends. She often turns towards them with her big, beautiful smile. Ellee is now sitting with support!

Evie will often crawl over to her friends to see what they are doing. She is very observant as she watches every movement throughout the classroom.

Forrest is beginning to sit unsupported for a few minutes at a time and has begun rolling over from his back to his tummy. He has also started eating some of his spoon food at school.

Jack has become a great little sitter himself. It is especially fun for him to sit next to one of his friends and play. He has also become fond of food time in the highchair.

June has been so busy this month with working on her pulling up and standing skills. She is pulling up on and standing next to the furniture, bigger toys, and her teachers. She has also perfected how to carry toys while crawling. She is now eating the school food (cut into small pieces) during mealtimes, along with her purees and bottles.

Rowan enjoys his tummy time more and more, especially when he is near his friends. He has also been working on and being successful with a few longer naps.

Ben, younger sibling to Clover will start this month.

Lillian we would like to welcome you and your parents, Josh and Allison.

Reminders:

- Conferences will be held on November 11th by phone. It will be a great time to do team building and to plan for any changes that are coming up. Classes will not be scheduled for that day.
- Closed on Thanksgiving and the day after Thanksgiving, November 26th and 27th.
- Poinsettias.... If you are still deciding about a purchase, I would like to assure you that they are beautiful, lush plants that really last. I ordered some of the 8" last year and they did not disappoint.

We want you to know how much we appreciate your quick morning notes. They have really helped us in caring for your children. If you have questions, information or concerns please feel free to reach out.

As always, thank you for sharing your sweet children with us!

Ms. Jo, Ms. Deann and Ms. Melissa
