

THE MONTHLY

GROWING TREE CHILDREN'S CENTER

SEED

January 1, 2022

Dear Families,

Wow! What a month we had in the Seedlings room. Our big friends are on the move and getting more mobile every day and we got to spend time getting to know our new little friends Beckett, Taylor, and Julia. We also had fun and giggles making footprint reindeer ornaments. We have many ticklish feet in this class.

The babies have all responded really well to Ms. Madison joining us and she has done an excellent job getting to know everyone's routines, likes and dislikes. We are happy to have her and if you have not met her yet pop in and say hi.

Nell, Poppy, and Lillian were able to spend time next door with the Big Seeds eating at the table, sleeping on cots, and playing outside in the snow! They had a wonderful time and are ready to be official Big Seeds this month. We will miss their cuddles and smiles but know they will enjoy their new adventures with Ms. Jessica and Ms. Corinna.

Caleb has been on the go crawling around the class exploring every corner, cupboard, drawer, and toy shelf. He has also started pulling up to a stand and is trying to get his feet moving.

Townes is choosing to spend more time on his tummy and has even started inching forward to reach a toy. He will be crawling before we know it but for now, he knows rolling is faster.

Landon is scooting around on his bum on the sly. One minute he is playing at the toy shelf and the next time you turn around he is three feet away at the toy car and trying to pull himself up.

Addison is picking up speed with her crawling and is very happy to finally be able to move around the class independently and get what she wants. She also is pulling up to a stand and working on her balance. Looks like walking is next on her to do list.

Beckett is a pretty chill little guy who enjoys hanging out in his baby gym and does not mind a little tummy time. He is also a huge fan of naps.

Taylor is a very social little gal who enjoys playing near friends that she can smile and coo with. She always has a smile and loves to sing songs with her caregivers.

Julia is settling in wonderfully and is finding her daily rhythm and balance. She is very snuggly and enjoys being talked to. She is very curious about her big friends and is always very interested when they come over to check on her.

This month we will be welcoming baby Riley (her big brother Parker is in The Bud room). We look forward to reacquainting with Riley and her family.

We hope everyone had a safe and wonderful Holiday season. We are excited to see what the New Year brings to the Seedling's room.

Happy New Year!
Ms. Jolene and Ms. Madison
