

Seedling's News June, 2018

Woohoo! Suns out, Seedlings are out... Outside that is, soaking up the sun, breathing the fresh air, and letting loose of some serious wiggles! Thank you to all our parents for being so prompt with bringing in sunscreen for your little ones. You rock! It is our goal to get the little guys outside at least twice a day and it can still be a little chilly in the mornings so please bring your child a light jacket and something for their feet every day. With the A/C inside it is not always tank top and shorts temp especially for the little ones. We recommend dressing your child in layers or bringing in a change of outfit for when it warms up in the afternoon. It is no problem to change them when we apply their sunscreen. We don't want them to be too warm or too cold and will adjust their clothing accordingly.

We hope all our moms had a wonderful Mother's Day and enjoyed the butterflies their little ones made. A lot of tickly feet and love went into the making of them. Don't worry Dads-- we have something special coming for you as well this month.

Luke and Eaven are off and running. They have mastered walking and are picking up the pace and even starting to climb up on things. They love being outside where they can stretch their legs, test the limits and play with the big seeds without having to watch out for babies on the floor. Lulu and Jackson are trying their best to keep up with the big guys and are pulling up onto their feet and working on their balance and confidence. Keep up the good work guys! Teddy is off in a commando crawl and is also starting to get up on his hands and knees and rock back and forth and is already trying to pull himself up on the ball pit. Lillian went from not rolling over at all to rolling all over the classroom practically overnight. She decided she needed to go and just went for it. Now she is trying to crawl and pull up on things too. Ronin is rolling front to back and back to front again and turning in circles on his tummy. He is also starting to sit up on his own for short periods of time. Izzy is rolling from her back onto her side and is getting close to rolling over. She has found her voice and is doing a lot of babbling, cooing and giggling with her friends and caregivers.

Parents please make sure you are labeling all of your child's things; diapers, wipes, binkies, food pouches, snacks and all breastmilk and fresh food must be labeled with the child's name and date it was pumped or prepared. Your child's daily sheet is for you to take home each day. This is where we will write down if your child needs any supplies like diapers, wipes, food, extra clothes or more sunscreen.

We love being able to spend time outside this time of year with the little ones when it's not too hot yet and the trees are blooming making everything smell wonderfully like Spring (not the usual fry smell from the café down the street ☺). We hope everyone has a chance to get out and enjoy the change of seasons and has a great month!
